My two main objectives for this week were to finish up source interviews for my enterprise story and really start writing and formatting the article.

I achieved these objectives: Yes  No  Partially

Explain how you achieved or why you did not achieve your goals. Be specific.

Dan and I were both able to finish up our source interviews and begin outlining and writing the first few drafts of our article. We went back and forth on layout, formatting, flow and order, but seemed to have gotten it just right. Dan and I sent in our first official draft to our desk editors and our enterprise editor, and should hear back by the beginning of next week.

Describe the work you personally performed and observed.

This week I wrote, "Qudian Dodges Data Breach Class Action Revival in New York," and "Kroto Faces Privacy Lawsuit Over iCanvas Customer Data Breach."

List the names and titles/positions of all the people you directly worked with this week.

This week I worked with my mentor, Dan Stoller, my editors John Hughes and Keith Perine, our assigned enterprise editor Cheryl Saenz, and my internship supervisor JoAnn Goslin.

Describe any new skills or concepts you learned or important observations (about yourself or others) you made this week.

I noticed that I need to work on my interviewing skills a little bit more, so that I don't sound so awkward.

Describe any significant experiences, achievements, "aha" moments and/ or roadblocks you had this week.

It's insane that I only have two weeks left of my internship! Time really does fly when you're having fun!!
